

Sector in A Box Learning Solution Energy Edition

Visit us: workplacediversitysolutions.com

Email us: info@workplacediversitysolutions.com

Meeting the challenges of inclusive service

Our team of experts understand the challenges that the energy sector faces when meeting their legal and regulatory obligations in respect of Equality, Diversity and Inclusion.

Workplace Diversity Solutions can help businesses looking to embed a culture of inclusion within their businesses, implementing solutions that benefit all customers, and improve the diversity of your workforce.

Using the sector in a box means we provide you with the tools, resources, guidance, and training materials you need to offer a truly exceptional customer experience.

What is a Sector in a Box?

Our Sector in a Box range of learning solutions puts you in control of your learning.

Workplace Diversity Solutions understand the challenges that many businesses face when delivering staff training, when meeting their legal and regulatory obligations regarding Equality, Diversity and Inclusion, or simply trying to offer a truly inclusive service.

Using our experience, we can provide you with the appropriate learning tools and resources you need to meet the highest standards within your industry and meet your compliance obligations.

Having worked with many businesses we came to understand that some cases you simply want to be able to deliver a high impact learning experience when you need it and without having to rely upon an external training provider.

Each of our solutions has been created by experts with a wealth of experience in supporting organisations to understand and embrace key areas of diversity and inclusion.

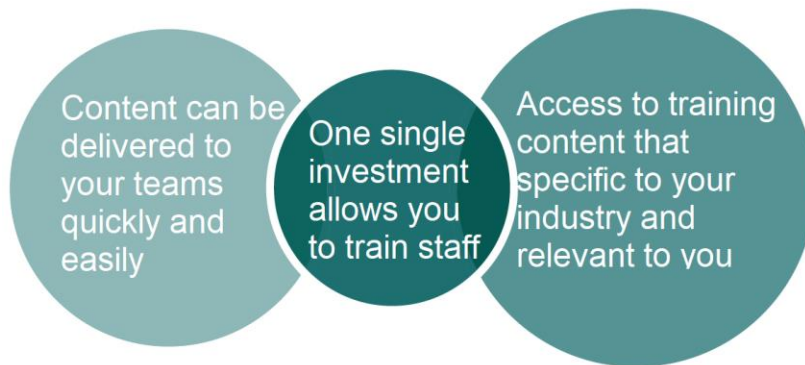

Our aim is to give you access to high quality training materials so that you can empower your workforce to become truly inclusive.

All our materials are produced by experts in the field with many years of subject matter expertise. The materials are high quality and are created by us, using our inhouse team of experts, designers and learning professionals.

Visit us: workplacediversitysolutions.com

Email us: info@workplacediversitysolutions.com

What are the benefits?

Using the content and the trainers notes you will be able to develop enough knowledge to deliver the course independently, this gives you a huge return on investment as you will not need to pay an external trainer each time the course is delivered.

Our learning solution works across your population

Workplace Diversity Solutions supports energy suppliers, distribution network operators and businesses working within the energy sector to provide an inclusive service, the energy edition of our Sector in a Box solution has been created by experts with a wealth of experience in supporting businesses to understand and comply with key regulations, create a culture of inclusion within the business and enhance the customer experience.

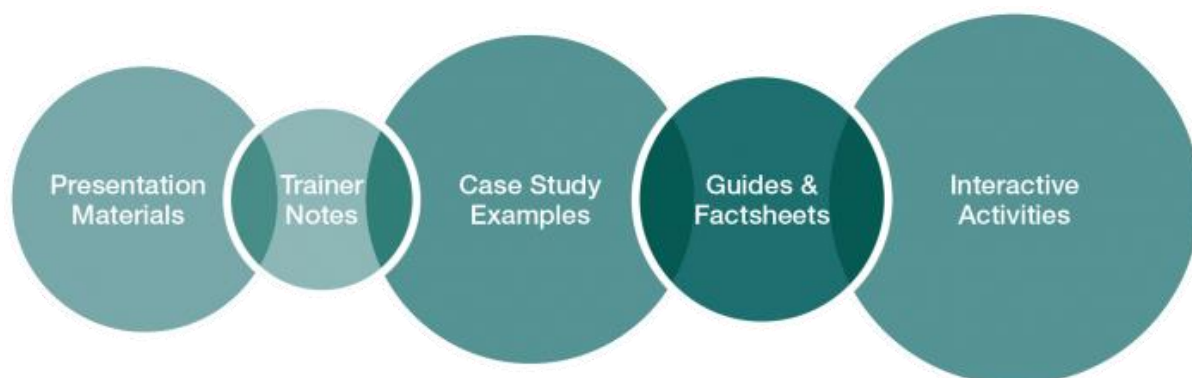

Visit us: workplacediversitysolutions.com

Email us: info@workplacediversitysolutions.com

How our solution works for you

In short, we provide you with an integrated set of tools to meet the Equality, Diversity and inclusion training needs for your workforce. If you are an individual who has responsibility for staff development, then our solution could be just what you have been looking for.

Our market leading training solution equips your business with everything you need in order to make sure that your diversity and inclusion approach has a lasting impact.

What is included in the box?

Detailed trainers guide to ensure that you have the confidence and the knowledge needed to deliver the appropriate training materials to your team

A highly visual presentation of course materials developed specifically for your sector so that you can deliver learning whenever and wherever you need it.

We have courses available in key topics such as

- Introduction to Diversity & Inclusion
- Disability Awareness
- Mental Health Awareness
- Diversity for Managers

Handouts that you can give to your team to take away and continue learning

An internal checklist showing attendance records so that you have a clear training record or audit trail

Language and Terminology Guide that you can give to staff to ensure effective communication

Factsheets, guides, and key documents associated with your industry so that you are providing the right and relevant information to your team

Case study examples to make your learning environment more engaging

A certificate that you can amend and give to each learner to show your commitment to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

Visit us: workplacediversitysolutions.com

Email us: info@workplacediversitysolutions.com

Our learning solution has been specifically designed to help business in the energy sector to take a long-term strategic approach to inclusive service.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Who are Workplace Diversity Solutions?

Workplace Diversity Solutions work with businesses from across the United Kingdom. We support businesses to take a strategic approach towards diversity and inclusion.

Our clients have included some of the most well- known brands in the UK:

We provide businesses with powerful learning solutions that are designed to ensure you maximise your return on investment.

Richard Shakespeare, Managing Director of Workplace Diversity Solutions has been featured in the national press on many occasions for media outlets such as Channel 4 News, Daily Mail, BBC News, Financial Times and has won an award from former Dragons Den investor Theo Paphitis.

What Work have you done within the energy sector?

Workplace Diversity Solutions has provided training to staff from Scottish and Southern Energy, we have worked within the energy sector for over five years supporting both suppliers, and Distribution Network Operators.

Workplace Diversity Solutions works closely with Scottish and Southern Electricity Networks and have completed several detailed projects for the business across the United Kingdom.

How much does this learning solution cost?

Our sector in a box solution starts from as little as £2,000 plus VAT, this represents a considerable cost saving when compared to traditional classroom-based learning where you require an external trainer to attend each session.

What should I do if I want to discuss this with you?

If you would like to arrange a free consultation to discuss your requirements, please contact us.

Visit us: workplacediversitysolutions.com

Email us: info@workplacediversitysolutions.com